Dear Alums: NU-KU Game To Be Real Hair-Puller

Teams
Evenly
Matched

Dear NU Grad:
Greetings and salutations! And welcome to another Homecoming celebration.

Here's hoping you didn't wear yourself out Friday night looking at decorations and toasting your class. There's a football game today, Mr. Alum, and it's shaping up as quite a hair-pulling contest between two evenly-matched Big Eight teams.

In case you've forgotten, the Nebraska Cornhuskers will try for win No. 2 against the Kansas Jayhawks at Memorial Stadium along about 2 p.m. Saturday afternoon.

No doubt you'll be among the 34,000 Nebraska partisans who are expected to root for the Scarlets. Kansas will have some backers, too, and the Jayhawk band will be on hand to add color to the Homecoming festival.

Better Weather

Incidentally, the weatherman has promised to be more considerate of the football frolic than he was for Friday's warm-up activities. The skies are expected to clear and the temperature will rise into the mid-50s.

Coach Bill Jennings' Cornhuskers have been installed a 1 1/2 point favorite over Kansas, the first time NU has escaped the underdog spot since the Washington State opener.

For Chuck Mather, Kansas coach, this will be his last sortie against Nebraska—a team he hasn't been able to whip in three previous outings. Mather this week announced his resignation, effective at the close of the campaign. Kansas, also, has won only a single game this year.

High-Scoring Game

Since neither team has established itself as a defensive titan this fall, you needn't be surprised if it's a high-scoring affair this afternoon if one club or the other hits a hot streak. Kansas has yielded an average of 36 points per game, while the Cornhuskers have been nicked for a 26-point average.

Kansas, which will have a decided weight advantage over the Huskers, no doubt will launch numerous guided missiles in hopes that the Nebraska pass defense—which has been far from puncture-proof—will again be vulnerable.

Wally Straub, last year's top conference passer, is back for some more flinging and he's got a bevy of able receivers, headed by fleet halfback Homer Floyd and end Jim Letcavits.

Either Spot

Floyd, who may maneuver from either the fullback or left halfback spot in Mather's scheme of operation, will be doing plenty of ball carrying, too. Jerry Brown, one of the nation's top fullbacks, will be a co-captain, along with Doug Thomas who has blossomed as a left halfback threat.

New Position

Memorial Stadium fans will get a chance to watch a new line standout in action for the Huskers. LeRoy Zentz, who performed as an alternate center in previous games here, made the move to starting guard last week at Missouri and staged an impressive demonstration of defensive play.

Through the years, Old Grad, the Cornhuskers have piled up a top-heavy margin over Kansas, whipping the Jayhaws 46 times while losing only 14 and tying three.

If No. 47 is posted today, I know you'll have as much fun at Memorial Stadium as those Missouri alums had last week at their stadium.

And that was a whale of a time.

Happy Homecoming,

Dan Bryant

Donald M. McBride, 54, Dies In N.Y. ...Oil Firm Official

Donald M. McBride, 54, manager of Phillips Petroleum Company's supply and transportation department, and a former Lincolnite died Friday in New York City.

His body is being returned to his home at Bartlesville, Okla., where funeral arrangements are pending.

Mr. McBride was in New York on business when he was stricken Wednesday night with pneumonia.

He was an employee of the Skelly Oil Company in Lincoln for a short time before joining Phillips as a city sales agent here in 1929.

He later served as assistant division manager of the Des Moines, Ia., and Omaha sales division.

From 1933 to 1939 he was division manager in Omaha. He transferred in 1939 to Bartlesville as director of sales research, and the following year was named assistant sales manager, serving in that capacity for six years.

He was named assistant manager of crude oil purchases in 1947, and in 1950 was named manager of that division.

Mr. McBride had been manager of the supply and transportation department since Feb. 1, 1955.

Born in Mullen, Neb., Mr. McBride was graduated from high school in Lincoln and attended the University of Nebraska.

Surviving are his wife, the former Frances Leming of Lincoln; a daughter, Mrs. John D. Freiburger of Bartlesville, Okla.; sons, Don M. McBride Jr., who is in the oil business in Venezuela; Tom, a student at Oklahoma State University in Stillwater, Okla.; mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Drummer of Lincoln; mother-in-law, Mrs. Maude Leming of Lincoln; and sister-in-law, Mrs. Dick Lieurance, also of Lincoln.

The three are Alvin J. Gerdes, 37, Beatrice, Neb., farmer; Marvin L. Coates, 17, Beatrice, Neb.; and Dale

L. Coates, 20, Beatrice, Neb.

The three were cited for saving two boys from drowning in Blue River flood waters near DeWitt, Neb., July 2, 1956.

The boys Todd E. Flesner, 8, and Daniel E. Jamison, 10, were swept away while wading in a road inundated by the flood waters.

Gerdes, 37-year-old farmer, plunged into the water after them although he could not swim. He was unable to hold the boys, but the cries of the three attracted Marvin and Dale Coates and their 13-year-old nephew. The Coates brothers dived in and the nephew waded out in the water. They managed to save the floundering trio.

The 74-year-old chief of state, one of the rebellious young Turks of '30 years ago, won without a dissenting vote. His ruling Democratic party cast 413 votes for him. Opposition parties, holding a minority share of the 610 seats, abstained.

15,000 Gaze At Displays

According to police estimates between 13,000 and 15,000 persons turned out Friday night to gaze at the dozens of tortures devised by University of Nebraska students for the Jayhawks, the University of Kansas' mythical mascot.

As many as 25,000 had been expected to view the displays but it was felt that the threatening weather reduced the number.

One of the most massive displays was a covered wagon with Jayhawks hitched. A Nebraska player drove the rig on the lawn.

Another fraternity display that drew a good deal of attention was a huge cuckoo clock that presented Jayhawks as the working birds and a Cornhusker football player with a club to swat the birds as they appeared. That was the entry of Sigma Nu.

Kappa Alpha Theta sorority built a huge octopus, the tentacles of which constricted Jayhawks. Over the display was the admonition "Octopus the Jayhawks."

In a wintry setting the Sigma Kappa sorority urged the University football team to "Snow the Jayhawks."

Winners of the display contest will be announced at the Homecoming Dance, Saturday night.

—Labor Willing— Meany Pledges Mop-Up

Corruption More Extensive Than He Realized

WASHINGTON (AP)—AFL-CIO President George Meany said Friday labor corruption is more extensive than he had realized but he pledged that the federation will succeed in cleaning it up.

Meany said labor is willing to accept reasonable corrective legislation from Congress but will rally as one man to fight off any move "to fasten anti-union legislation on us in the guise of eliminating corruption."

Organized labor, Meany said in a speech to the AFL-CIO's Industrial Union Department (IUD), doesn't have too many friends in Congress and very few real friends on the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee headed by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.).

Praised

The committee has developed a series of labor scandal disclosures in public hearings during the past year. McClellan only Thursday praised Meany for courage in acting against corruption-tainted unions. The AFL-CIO has suspended the giant Teamsters Union and given two other unions until Nov. 15 to oust allegedly corrupt leaders.

Meany said in forming the AFL-CIO over two years ago labor's leaders realized a growing corruption trend and knew it would hurt organized labor as an instrument for getting more benefits for workers.

For that reason, he said, the AFL-CIO constitution contains strong rules against labor corruption and he said these will be enforced.

"If some people want their President to disregard those provisions just to suit their convenience, they'd better get another president," Meany said.

While suspecting some corruption inroads as long as three years ago, Meany said he and other labor leaders had no idea of its extent.

"We knew a few things, but we didn't know one-half, one-tenth or even one-hundredth of it," he said.

Friends Of Zhukov Reportedly Are Being Purged

MARSHAL LIKELY TO BE EXILED

...To Remote Job

LONDON (AP)—Reports from Moscow Friday night said Soviet armed forces are being purged of powerful friends of ex-Defense Minister Georgi K. Zhukov and the marshal himself is likely to be exiled to a remote military job.

Already, according to reports reaching Belgrade, he has been expelled from all his positions of power—from the top-level party Presidium, the slightly lower level party central committee and the Defense Ministry job.

When the Kremlin hierarchy gets around to revealing Zhukov's future and the reasons for his humiliation, other uncensored reports said, it will make him the scapegoat for the Syrian-Turkish brink-of-war scare, a crisis which Soviet Party boss Nikita Khrushchev himself stirred up.

Tight Censorship

Tight Moscow censorship stopped all but the vaguest hints about developments in the Soviet capital and the charges that are likely to be used to explain the hatchet job on the defense marshal.

Reports about an Army and Navy purge and about the probability Zhukov would be sent to some remote spot ranking with Outer Mongolia came from Irving R. Levine, NBC correspondent, who arrived in Helsinki, the Finnish capital, from Moscow Friday. He said the reports were circulating among Russians as well as foreign diplomats when he left Moscow a few hours before.

Belgrade diplomats speculated that Zhukov's refusal to accept his disgrace without a fight was behind the week-long delay in a Kremlin announcement about his future. Other reports from the Yugoslav capital said the announcement was being held up so that Soviet Communist Party organizations could be informed and prepared.

'NO TIME FOR SERGEANTS' CROWD 1,290

An attendance of 1,290 was reported at the Friday night showing of the New York comedy, "No Time For Sergeants," at Pershing Municipal Auditorium.

This brings the two-night attendance total to 2,102, according to Auditorium Manager Don Jewell.

The final performance will be 8:15 Saturday at Pershing Municipal Auditorium.

Jewell reported a "wonderful crowd reaction" to the play and he also said the people connected with the show had praised the facilities and acoustics at the Lincoln auditorium, terming them among the best they had found anywhere.

To Eye Censorship

NEW YORK (AP)—The executive committee of the Inter-American Press Association (IAPA) will meet here Nov. 18 to consider press censorship in Cuba. The government of President Fulgencio Batista extended the state of siege Oct. 29 for an additional period of 45 days. The press is muzzled under the state of siege.

Chest Drive Goes Over Top 31st Time

Lincoln, for the 31st consecutive year, achieved its goal in the Community Chest and Red Cross United Campaign when workers turned in $37,353 Friday.

This brought the grand total to $594,868, which is $4,287 past the $590,581 goal and allowed Lincoln to retain its national record for surpassing its goals.

General Chairman James Ackerman had high praise for the volunteer solicitors who helped raise the all-time-high amount for Lincoln.

Ackerman commented:

"The people of Lincoln have, for the 31st consecutive year, responded to the challenge of united community giving. Over half a million dollars has been pledged to the support of character building, rehabilitation and welfare organizations for 1958."

"The response of the almost 2,000 volunteer workers and more than 40,000 contributors in this campaign has been magnificent. This is the sort of thing that makes Lincoln a wonderful place in which to live."

Dr. Vance Rogers, Nebraska Wesleyan University president, gave the invocation at a luncheon at which final reports were made.

Divisions, chairmen, amounts reported Friday, totals and percentage of goal attained:

Business and professional, Gene Eaton, $1,434, $69,164, 101 per cent.

Industrial and automotive, Harold Osborn, $2,313, $68,952, 101 per cent.

Foods and services, Lester Rau, $1,804, $29,246, 95 per cent.

Public departments, Fred Harrington, $3,978, $73,099, 105 per cent.

Women's division, Mrs. J. Kenneth Snowden, $462, $15,025 (of $15,000 goal).

Division A, Phil Assenmacher, $27,867, $338,300 (of $338,000 goal).

General's Actress Wife Pilots U.S. Military Transport

LONDON (INS)—The London Daily Mirror reported Friday that blonde Jessie Royce Landis, actress-wife of U.S. Maj.-Gen. John F. R. Seitz, flew an American military transport plane part of the way from Paris to London Thursday.

The actress accompanied Seitz on a flight from Iran, where he heads the U.S. Military Mission, in a four-engined, 40-seat Skymaster.

A Mirror columnist quoted her as saying:

"I was flying the plane myself—not all the way, of course—and there was a co-pilot standing by all the time."

"After a while, my husband said he had enough roller coaster flying and made me hand over the controls."

Asked if she had any previous flying experience, the actress was said to have replied:

"Gracious, no. I never had a lesson in my life. I have just watched other pilots. Whenever my husband flies, I always fly with him."

Authorities Probe Four Deaths As Woman Quizzed

SELMA, Ala. (AP)—Authorities were seeking causes of the deaths of four persons in their investigation of a woman who held 4 insurance policies in which she was the beneficiary.

The third and fourth bodies were exhumed for examination Thursday night but Sheriff Jim Clark and solicitor Blanchard McLeod declined to say where they were. The bodies of Mrs. Mary Perkins' son and husband had been exhumed earlier.

No report has been released on any of the autopsies.

McLeod said the Negro woman's 7-year-old son died last week a day after the mother had increased her policy on his life from $25 to $1,000.

The solicitor said the 36-year-old woman shot herself in the chest after she was questioned about the death of the boy, but is recovering. She underwent an operation for removal of the bullet Friday.

James Symes, president of the Pennsylvania, and Alfred Perlman, president of the New York Central, jointly announced the merger studies.

A merger, if effected, would apply both to the physical properties and the financial structure. It would enable the roads to consolidate terminal facilities and eliminate duplicate rail and yard facilities in some areas.

The deed shows that the First Trust Co. as trustee of the estate of the late Theresa Spehn Schaaf sold the property to Phillip Byron, Abraham Byron and Mike Cohen.

Phillip Byron reported a renovation of the store is planned soon.

Byron noted that the store has operated in its present location on a lease for more than 19 years of its 50-year existence. Previously the firm was located at 1117 O.

COSMETICS,

Not A Burning Issue

Nebraska's petition drive to put bingo into the good graces of the law is moving at ox cart speed, its sponsors say.

At this writing only 21,187 signatures are on file in drive headquarters. It will take a minimum of 56,794 to place legalized bingo on the state ballot sometime before the deadline next July 3. While early results have only gained 38 per cent of the needed names it is still a long time until July 3, 1958. A diligent campaign, it appears, will be able to bring the question to a referendum.

Success at the polls will be another matter.

Bidding For Birthrights

Among the communiques bearing the stamp of Nebraska's Republican party here at week end was one which directed State Chairman R. E. Speirs Jr., to organize forces to promote a 1960 state referendum aimed at restoring a partisan legislature.

The non-political selection of the state's unicameral senators is repugnant to the managers of the Republican party.

The move is not particularly novel. In recent years there have been attempts not only by the Republicans but at times with the moral assistance of the Democratic organization to alter the birthright of the rank and file Nebraskans—that right being their privilege of electing senators without the interposed authority of a political party.

A political or a non-political legislature in Nebraska is not an academic question to be re-

The listlessness of the campaign can be construed as public indifference. Bingo, pro and con, is minority interest, neither as essential to a progressive, prosperous Nebraska as its defenders would believe, nor as virily infectious as its enemies fear. Immunity both to its blessings and its virus runs high in Nebraska.

In an atmosphere of public indifference the bingo issue will have to hire some hard breathing script writers or suffer the consequences on the coming election day something akin to that usually encountered by that well known character—the forgotten man.

Success at the polls will be another matter.

Harrison Still Plugging

One thing you can generally depend upon from a majority of Nebraska's congressional delegation is a good conservative viewpoint on things. How well this was brought home in a speech this week at Seward by Rep. Robert Harrison.

Harrison expressed a conviction that Nebraskans are interested in "the continuing struggle to increase economy in the federal government." Nebraska's four members of the House have been on that old saw for so long that it's a wonder their constituents are not convinced they know no other tune.

Harrison latches out in favor of economy and calls it a struggle when it is his own Republican party in the White House which has been doing all the spending for the past six years. On top of that, he shows a lack of understanding of recent scientific developments in the world and a lack of understanding of the feelings of his own people.

Flying Elephants

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

We are stone sober but still want to go on record in favor of flying elephants. Sound a little crazy? Well, it makes sense after reading an editorial from the St. Louis Globe Democrat. The Globe credits Missouri's neighboring states with having no rivals when it comes to growing wheat or corn, raising hogs or producing oil. But you could no more build up a tourist trade for any of them (including Nebraska) than you could make an elephant fly.

To the author of that little gem: Don't start ducking yet but don't be surprised if you live to see the day when "elephants fly." We will agree with the Globe in its statement that Missouri has more natural assets to work with in attracting tourist trade than Nebraska but to say the Beef State doesn't have a chance in competition for the tourist buck is like waving a red flag at a bull.

Still not content with himself, the Globe writer went to point out that the Great Plains states like Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska and Kansas are "as flat as a billiard table and about as exciting to see." Well, we have traveled a little bit of Missouri and have yet to see anything there that takes one's breath away. Nebraska's potential might be somewhat limited but it is far from non-existent. The plains of Nebraska can be very impressive and its rolling Sandhills country can be as peaceful and inspiring as any Missouri timberland. There is serenity and solitude to much of Nebraska's countryside that can do wonders for a responsive soul. A drive through Nebraska has a lot to offer if you have the stuff in you to let it get through.

As for specific tourist attractions in the state, Nebraska could do a lot of effective things to improve that situation. Not only could this be done, but it is a prominent thought in the minds of state officials close to the problem. Nebraska's parks could be developed to a point where they would be a definite asset in connection with tourist trade. They could be developed to provide excellent accommodations and recreational attractions. Granted, this would take money but Nebraska is aware of the potential in this field and is confident it can and will make hay along these lines.

The Globe editorial also contained some information which shows the possible rewards to be obtained from a tourist-attractive state. The growth of the recreation business in America has been astounding since the end of World War II. According to Globe figures, nearly one-tenth of the nation's income is now spent on goods and services for leisure time use. The number of vacation weeks has climbed from 43 million in 1947 to 70 million in 1956. Total outlays for domestic vacations and weekends soared from $5.4 billion to more than $10 billion. These figures clearly show the desire of Americans to travel and see their native land. Particularly during the vacation season, the highways are loaded with pleasure-seeking travelers—travelers seeking escape from the daily routine of things through new people, places and adventures.

Editorial Of The Day

Give The Facts

From The Des Moines Register

A more rational attitude toward a proposed congressional investigation of satellite and ballistic missiles programs is beginning to replace the excited demands for a special session of Congress.

Some influential members of the Senate military affairs committee, including Senator Richard Russell (Dem., Ga.), the chairman, are curbing demands for immediate action. They insist on giving consideration first to preliminary reports the Defense Department has been asked to submit.

This does not mean that pressure for more information on the missile and satellite programs is diminishing. It means only that the brakes are being applied against headlong impulsive action that could be more damaging than helpful.

What Congress and the administration should do is fairly obvious.

President Eisenhower needs to give the country a clear statement of the government's best estimate of where we stand on missile development.

Such a statement ought to make it clear for the ordinary citizen what objectives are most important with respect to national security and what progress has been made toward achieving them.

U.S. Hurricane Research Hurt

WASHINGTON — It may seem a long way from a closed-door meeting in the Weather Bureau recently to the prestige we lost over Sputnik, but there are certain connections just the same.

If the United States could discover a way to control hurricanes or predict their paths more accurately, it's hard to overestimate the propaganda victory we would win in the Far East and South America.

Japan, the Philippines, and the countries of Southeast Asia suffer millions of dollars of property damage and lose thousands of lives from these tropical storms which in the eastern hemisphere are called "typhoons." Should the United States divert just one typhoon away from the flimsy wooden houses of a Japanese city, it would win the respect and gratitude of millions of Asians.

It is detrimental to the American system to encourage monopoly and there is precious little evidence that any state which encourages one-party gains from such an adventure. There is on the other hand a mass of evidence that one-party has a retarding effect on political health, regardless of which party is granted the monopoly.

There may be some soporific value in a retreat by Nebraska people from the responsibilities of political discipline, but any release that way is a move toward weakness, not strength.

At the close door meeting at the Weather Bureau, officers of the Air Weather Service of the Air Force reluctantly refused to discuss keeping the three research planes flying. They agreed with Weather Bureau meteorologists that the national hurricane research project is the most hopeful hurricane research in history. But they were under orders from Defense Department economists not to discuss the three Air Force research planes now being stripped of their electronic recording equipment at Palm Beach, Fla.

NOTE—It's ironic that the Air Force, which has abandoned its special role in hurricane research, is frequently the first to brag whenever one of the "hurricane" planes discovers a hurricane in time to warn a city.

Nixon Tactician In California Struggle

WASHINGTON — When California Democrats got the word that Attorney General Pat Brown would accept their nomination for governor, they happily figured that they were to use the political vernacular, in like Flynn.

Brown's political caution is legendary in the state. For years it has alternately frustrated and encouraged Democrats. They now believe he must have a combination of information and good judgment leading him to make his present decision.

The national significance of the game being played in California is, of course, its effect on the vice-president. If Nixon loses the state either to Knowland or the Democrats, it would not help his presidential ambitions in 1960.

Some students of the form sheets on Nixon's own races and political performance believe he would prefer losing to the Democrats in 1958 on the theory that the state GOP would revert to his close control in 1960 and he could regain its electoral vote in the general election. This is a harsh view admitted, but Nixon plays politics for keeps, not fun, as his own supporters admit.

Their problem is to obtain a ringing endorsement for him from the state Democratic councils which meet in Fresno next January. The councils have the advantage of interesting the rank and file of voters; they are also yeasty bodies which dislike anything smacking of dictation. Various anti-Engle factions and at least one other willing candidate, State Senator Robert McCarthy of San Francisco, will no doubt make a strong pitch at Fresno which will tax Brown's peacemaking powers.

Debutante Party For Johnny-Come-Lately

Debutante parties are not for me.

Entirely aside from the fact that I have never been to one, having belonged more to the frayed-pants set in my eligible days, I have just discovered that you are not supposed to be punctual at a debutante party. The way I discovered it was by reading a newspaper article on how to act at one of the coming-out soirees.

There it was in cold, black type: "Wait at least 30 minutes after the scheduled starting time to arrive at the reception. Could anything be more terrifying than being the first to put in an appearance at a big party?"

Well sir, here the society writer was asking a question, and I figure a good question deserves a polite answer.

It was not really the terror of the thing that raised my hackles, however, so much as the downright brutality of coming out bald-handed and advising people to be late. Not merely a little late, either, but a whole half hour late. It goes against the ethical grain.

The way I see it, when people invite you to be at their party at, say, 8 o'clock, it is just plain ordinary rude if you don't get there until 8:30, and even ruder if being late is intentional. Besides, the roast beef is liable to be all eaten up by the time you get there.

By way of argument you might say that the host and hostess don't installing a small amount of electronic equipment on the 20 hurricane "hurricane" planes still assigned to it by the Air Force and Navy. In most cases, Weather Bureau meteorologists will be unable to ride along as they now do on the three specially equipped research planes.

The national hurricane research project was planned with the help of the world's top meteorologists three years ago after a rash of hurricanes brought havoc to U.S. coastal cities. It was then considered a long-range economy measure, for today a city like Miami can easily spend $1,000,000 just buttoning up against an approaching storm.

Meteorologists pointed out three years ago that the average hurricane is 350 miles wide and eight miles deep, filling the fantastic total of 1,000,000 cubic miles. The only way to discover how to control them, they said, was to record conditions in each of those million cubic miles—not once, but perhaps as often as every hour. This can only be done with an airplane equipped with electronic recording devices, since the human hand can't write fast enough while an airplane is flying through a storm.

The three special research planes can take readings every 10 seconds. By contrast, the "hurricane" planes, when equipped with a small amount of electronic equipment, will supply perhaps 1-1,000th as much data. They will continue. The other planes will not.

Note—it's ironic that the Air Force, which has abandoned its special role in hurricane research, is frequently the first to brag whenever one of the "hurricane" planes discovers a hurricane in time to warn a city.

to improve his position by affirmative action. He is forced to a choice of the alternative which would hurt him least.

As always in any story involving the vice-president, much speculation centers upon his motive. This is apparently to be a lasting aspect of what is, in most respects, one of the most dazzling success stories in American politics.

(Copyright 1957 By Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

It appears, too, that California Democrats will run true to form with a family fight next year. They are united on Brown, but a battle is in the making against the choice of party leaders for the Senate nomination, Representative Clair Engle. The leaders believe Engle to be the strongest candidate they could name.

Their problem is to obtain a ringing endorsement for him from the state Democratic councils which meet in Fresno next January.

The councils have the advantage of interesting the rank and file of voters; they are also yeasty bodies which dislike anything smacking of dictation. His doubts are that the show will get in the way of the practical achievements which should come out of the critical Paris meeting. He expressed something like these same doubts just before the summit conference in Geneva in the summer of 1955 when the President flew to Europe to sit down with the Russians, the British and the French to try to find a way to peace.

Stories Of Famous Hymns

The Sweet Bye And Bye

There's a land that is fairer than day,
And by faith we can see it afar;
For the Father waits over the way,
To prepare us a dwelling place there.

We shall sing on that beautiful shore
The melodious songs of the blest;
And our spirits shall sorrow no more—
Nor shall sigh for the blessings of rest.

To our bountiful Father above
We will offer the tribute of praise
For the glorious gifts of His love,
And the blessings that hallow our days.

In the sweet bye and 'bye, we shall meet
On that beautiful shore;
In the sweet bye and bye, we shall meet
On that beautiful shore.

By HORACE B. POWELL

If ever a booklet of Wisconsin-made hymns is planned, S. Fillmore Bennett's "Sweet Bye and Bye" should lead off the volume.

Like most of the hymns that the world cherishes today, Bennett's song was born of a flash of inspiration that came while he and a co-worker, Joseph Webster, were busy one day in 1869 in a little shop in Elkhorn making a collection of music for a book.

Webster, who was given to melancholy moods, was more than usually depressed and Bennett, who had found that he could best rouse his friend from the blues by giving him a new song or hymn to work on, paused in his writing and said: "Well, old chap, what's the matter now?" "Oh, nothing much," Webster answered. "I'll be all right bye and bye."

Bennett turned to his desk and dashed off the verses and chorus just as they are above. Webster took the manuscript and in less than half an hour finished the musical setting.

Two friends dropped in at the shop a little later and the quartet sang the hymn for the first time. Another friend strolled in during the singing and listened, fascinated. When it was over, he said: "That hymn is immortal." Two weeks later children were singing "The Sweet Bye and Bye" on the streets of Elkhorn.

Bingo Campaign Leader: Progress Is Disappointing

A leader in the Nebraska bingo petition campaign expresses disappointment in progress of the drive, which he said is less than 25 per cent of the way toward its goal.

Robert Lowe, state Veterans of Foreign War adjudicator, said, "It's not going as good as I hoped."

The VFW and Eagle Lodges are spearheading the campaign to bring about a vote next year in all 93 counties.

O'Neill Methodist Church To Mark 75th Anniversary

Lincoln Star Special
O'NEILL, Neb.—The Methodist Church here, oldest Protestant Church in the O'Neill region, will commemorate its 75th anniversary with special services Sunday.

The Rev. Robert Embree of O'Neill, northeast Nebraska district superintendent, will officiate at the service.

Dr. Vernon Rogers, president of Nebraska Wesleyan University, will speak at the 3 p.m. services.

The church was organized in 1882 by the Rev. Bartley Blain, a pioneer circuit-riding minister who earlier had interrupted his religious work to serve in the army to help put down the Sioux Indians.

L. G. Gillespie, O'Neill insurance man, and Albert Blino of Wilmar, Minn., retired Great Northern railroad man, are among the only living earliest members.

The Rev. Glenn Kennicott is church pastor.

SCHOOLS IN STATE PLAN
370 NEW CLASSROOMS

More than $7,000,000 was expended in Lincoln and Omaha. The average construction cost of some 370 classrooms was $17,70 per square foot is low, considering the cost of most of the buildings, which are classified as fireproof or fire-resistant throughout.

Cost of the classrooms, including furniture, equipment, and supplies, totals more than the $17,70 million, according to Dr. Donald O. Bush, State Education Department director of school plant services.

DR. KENNEDY WARNS
'FAITH ISN'T CHEAP'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dr. Gerald H. Kennedy, Methodist bishop of Los Angeles and former rector of St. Paul's Church in Lincoln, said the Christian church is in danger if it aligns itself with "advertising and ballyhoo."

In an obvious reference to recently-meeted like that of Billy Graham, whom he did not mention by name, the bishop said: "Some ministers promise huge returns at no cost . . . What they say simply is not true. Faith is not cheap."

KU Coeds Arrive For The Game

It was really homecoming for Miss Jean Garlinghouse when she arrived on Friday evening—but NOT the homecoming that is occupying the attention of the populace this week-end. You see Miss Garlinghouse, and the Pi Beta Phi sisters who accompanied her from Lawrence, Kan., are coeds at KU, and therefore their allegiance, naturally, is to the KU football squad.

The group, the guests of Miss Garlinghouse's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Robert O. Garlinghouse, includes:

CHATTER In The CORRIDOR

One of the week-end activities in the Northeast High crowd was the barbecue supper on Friday evening at the home of Miss Sharon Grossoehme when the LNE cheerleaders entertained in honor of their sponsor, Miss Mary Burnham, Miss Burnham, when not sponsoring the cheer-

Lincoln Northeast High School has an unusual tradition. Each season new cheerleaders are selected; whereas in other Lincoln schools, cheerleaders hold their position for a year.

Not only the cheerleaders, but also the whole pep club, are busy organizing the dance sponsored annually by the Rockettes, called the Turnabout because the girls take the boys, the party will be held November 9 this year.

As in past years, four candidates for king will be chosen by the pep club from all senior boys. Girls present at the dance will choose the king from the four finalists.

Other activity organizations at Lincoln Northeast are also planning a busy year. Y-teens, Stenettes, International Club, and Penguins have chosen officers and initiated new members this fall. New to LNE this year is the recently-formed Science Club.

Town Talk

NOW THAT everyone seems to be up to their ears in Homecoming activities, we'll take a good look at the far side of the week-end and see what plans there are for non-Homecoming fun—

The picture for Monday looks promising—There's the Colonial Dancing Club dinner dance, for instance, and we hear that the party—to be held in the ballroom at Hotel Cornhusker—has the fascinating title of "The Celestial Ball."

And planning all of the fun is a committee which includes Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Anderson, chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. Orin Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Beechner, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Cadwallader, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Deeter, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gadd, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Yaussi, Mr. and Mrs. Grey Jewett, Dr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Reed, Dr. and Mrs. Lynn Sharrar, and Dr. and Mrs. Maynard Wood.

Although the new members will be the center of attention at the affair, there is to be one guest couple—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Herbst of Rapid City, S. Dak.

LINCOLN skies may have been gray and dripping on Friday morning, but two young Lincoln women, Miss Mary Helen Malory and Miss Sandra Kay Enyeart, were off in the bright blue yonder notwithstanding. The travelers have gone island hopping—and will plane from hither to yon, stopping at San Juan, Puerto Rico, Jamaica, Caracas—and numerous other interesting far away places. They plan to return to Lincoln in about three weeks.

FROM Dallas, Tex., comes word of the birth of a daughter, Virginia Carol, to Mr. and Mrs. James Walton Garrard IV, on Wednesday, Oct. 3. Mrs. Garrard will be remembered in Lincoln as Mary Ida Barnds, Delta Delta Delta at Nebraska and daughter of the Rev. William Paul Barnds, former rector at St. Matthews Church, Episcopal, and Mrs. Barnds of Ft. Worth, Texas.

Is Postponed

The regular meeting of the Northeast Child Center Mothers Club, originally planned for Tuesday, Nov. 5, has been postponed until Thursday, Nov. 14.

The Clarks Fete Weekend Visitors

The Star In Suburbia

Park Manor and Patrician Heights residents are on deck this morning as the good ship Suburbia sets sail once again, and scanning the log we find notations of Halloween and birthday parties, a new arrival, bridge get togethers, and some October vacationers.

PARK MANOR

Several families in our suburb have been on the October vacation list, and among them were Capt. and Mrs. James Wilson who returned home Thursday, Oct. 24, from a trip to Oregon. The two-week holiday was spent at the home of Mrs. Wilson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Woodward, in Cutler City.

Also recent vacationers were Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Krasnoff and their daughter, Karen. The Krasnoff family spent two weeks on the east coast and in Chicago and returned to Park Manor on Oct. 14.

Understand that Mrs. James Mann was hostess to wives of officers in the 372nd bomb squadron on Thursday at her home. The informal affair which started at 10:30 o'clock included luncheon and bridge.

Two November birthdays will be celebrated on Monday afternoon when Mrs. Gordon Sherman and Mrs. Kenneth Delp will be hostesses at a party honoring their three-year-old sons Stephen Sherman and Rickey Delp. Joining the young honorees for luncheon and games will be Candy Beach, Patty Lee, Marquette Gillingham, Danny Marer and Ann Sherman.

PATRICIAN HEIGHTS

Introductions are in order this morning for we have a very new member of the talcum powder set to greet. Matthew Dean Lichy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard D. Lichy, arrived at St. Elizabeth Hospital on Tuesday, Oct. 29. Young Matt has a sister, Vicki Lee, and his grandparents are Mrs. Earl King and Mr. and Mrs. Gaylen Lichy, all of Beatrice.

Halloween may be over for another year but we are still hearing news of holiday festivities, and we hear that Miss Kathy Dovel and her brother Roger Miller, entertained at a party at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Dovel, on Thursday, Oct. 31. Members of the younger set joining in the fun of the evening were Rhonda Stemm, Vicki Lichy, Pam Miyoshi, Linda Mathews, Kaylene Priest, Sandy and Gary Hansel, Diana Lincoln, and Dennis and David Smith.

While on the subject of the younger generation we learn that Theresa Johnston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Johnston, celebrated her sixth birthday on Saturday, Oct. 5, and in honor of the occasion she entertained friends at a roller skating party at the Arena during the afternoon hours.

Mr. and Mrs. William Johnston recently returned from a five day hunting and vacation trip to Gernsey, Wyo. The couple visited Mrs. Johnston's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lamb, and were accompanied on the jaunt by Herman Vander Griend. Returning to Lincoln with the threesome was a fourth passenger, the deer that Mr. Johnston claimed as his hunting prize.

Knowland To Step Out Of Nixon's Way

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) will step out of the way of Vice President Nixon in the 1960 Republican presidential primaries outside of California, it was reported authoritatively Friday.

That does not necessarily mean Knowland won't try for the Presidential nomination. Presidential primaries do not determine the choice of the national convention, although they can influence that choice. Friends say Knowland hasn't made up his mind about trying for the big prize.

But Knowland's decision not to enter primaries, if he wins the governorship of California next year, has been communicated to close associates here. It represents a reversal of the tactics of the senator employed in 1956 when his name was entered in several state contests before President Eisenhower announced he would run again.

While associates emphasized Knowland had charted his course independently, without any consultation with Nixon on the subject, the decision gave the vice president a fresh break in his obvious campaign to win the 1960 Republican presidential nomination.

Cheering News

This break came on top of cheering political news for Nixon from California, where there were undenied reports that GOP Gov. Goodwin Knight would withdraw from the race for re-election as governor. This would leave the field clear in that contest for Knowland, the present Senate Republican leader.

Friends said Knight, vacationing outside the state, had sent word he would seek the Senate seat Knowland has announced he will vacate in January, 1959. This obviously is the solution Nixon has been working behind the scenes to attain.

If this happens, Nixon will avoid the necessity of publicly choosing between Knowland and Knight in a gubernatorial contest the vice president has feared would split California Republicans wide open and possibly cost them control of the state.

Although Nixon regards Knowland as a likely opponent for the Intelligence Tells Ike Committee To Expect Bigger Things From Russians

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. intelligence has told a presidential committee to expect "further revolutionary developments" from Russian science besides Sputnik because the Soviets are pushing their science program so hard.

This advice from Dr. Herbert Scoville Jr., assistant director of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), was buttressed with a remarkably timed statement anticipating the Communists' launching of the first earth satellite.

Speaking to President Eisenhower's Committee on Scientists and Engineers on Oct. 4, shortly before the Soviet announcement that day of Sputnik's launching, Scoville was quoted in paraphrased form as saying:

"There has been publicity about the Russian earth satellite. They won't announce anything until they have it up there. It wouldn't surprise us if such an announcement came at any time. We must be prepared for it. They are capable of doing such things."

Capable

"There is no question but that the Soviets are capable of great accomplishments both in peace-

Minor Russ Criminals To Be Set Free

LONDON (AP)—Radio Moscow announced Friday night a great number of minor criminals will be freed from Soviet jails to mark next week's 40th anniversary of the Russian revolution.

Those who have committed "any major crime against the state" will not be eligible. The amnesty was decided on by the Supreme Soviet (Parliament).

The amnesty appears to be a gesture to the Soviet public to coincide with the jubilee celebration next week. But it comes at a time of internal political crisis over the dismissal of Marshal Georgi Zhukov as defense minister.

In this connection, the action resembles similar measures in 1953. Stalin had died and the regime was involved in a dangerous crisis over the purge of the secret police boss, Lavrenty P. Beria. Far-reaching amnesties were granted at that time, too. "The Supreme Soviet has decided on this happy occasion to pardon prisoners who have committed crimes not considered to be great against the state," the broadcast said.

Among those scheduled to be freed from Soviet jails, the Moscow broadcast said, are:

1. Prisoners who have been sentenced to a period of not more than three years.
2. Women who have children under 8 years of age.
3. Pregnant women.
4. Men over 60.
5. Women over 55.
6. Youths under 16.

Clash With Labor

LONDON (AP)—Britain's Conservative government clashed with labor unions in a crackdown that heralded a new tough line on wage demands.

Health Minister Derek Walker-Smith overrode an arbitration ruling by an independent tribunal that said 32,000 health officers should get a 3 per cent increase in their present yearly pay of 1,200 pounds ($3,360).

Union leaders immediately denounced the government move as "a blow at collective bargaining" and talked openly of calling widespread strikes.

time and wartime," Scoville said. "In view of the dynamic drive of their entire scientific program, we must expect further revolutionary developments in addition to the first satellite launching."

For the Russian announcement last August of a successful firing of an intercontinental ballistic missile, Scoville said "we know they could have fired it but cannot prove whether they did or not. . . . we know they have capacity to fire such a test vehicle if they want. This program has a high priority and they are putting forth tremendous efforts."

He declared the Russians are now ahead of America "in terms of total scientific and technical professional manpower." And "if these trends continue," he said, "the situation will get worse before it gets better."

Watchers Ready
CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—The Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory geared itself to the possibility of tracking a new Russian satellite early next week. More than 15 moonwatch telescope teams were ordered to start a dawn and dusk patrol for a new satellite Nov. 5.

Dr. J. Allen Hynek, associate director of the observatory, said the alert was based upon a multitude of "rumors" the Soviets were planning a new venture into space early in November.

Ike Alerted

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower has been alerted by his top foreign policy and intelligence aides to expect new cold war moves by Russia aimed at distracting attention from the power struggle that ousted Georgi Zhukov.

State Department officials said there is a distinct probability that the unpredictable Soviet party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev will attempt to precipitate some new international crisis to cover up "violent convulsions" in the Kremlin.

CHICAGO (INS)—The President of the Scientific Manpower Commission declared that mathematics in the high schools must be revamped and intensified if the United States is going to produce scientists needed for the space age.

"It takes time to grow a forest and the high school pupil of today is the scientist and college instructor of 10 to 12 years hence."

Iowa State Frosh Rally To Clip Nebraska 33-19

Huskers Run Out Of Quarterbacks

...NU Leads at Halftime, 19-13

By RON SPEER
Star Sports Staff Writer

Nebraska ran out of freshman quarterbacks Friday afternoon and the Iowa State frosh footballers pulled away to a 33-19 victory.

The Junior Cyclones trailed at the half 13-19 as a scattering of NU fans watched Cornhusker quarterback Dean Cozine toss for two touchdowns and direct another.

But Cozine sprained an ankle after four minutes of play in the second half and the Husker youngsters couldn't get a drive going without the Fort Worth, Tex., quarterback calling the signals.

Ed Holly, reserve quarterback for the NU frosh, performed capably in the first half as a sub for Cozine, but he was shaken up shortly before the intermission and never saw action after the half.

Pat Fischer of Omaha, scheduled to share the quarterbacking duties with Cozine, missed the game. He has the flu. So after Holly and Cozine were injured, John Bond, an end, finished the game in the quarterback slot.

Iowa State, using its single wing power as effectively in the second half as the Cornhuskers had worked the Split-T, in the first two periods, scored in the third period to go ahead 20-19 and wrapped it up with a pair of last-quarter markers, one being

Ex-Coach Guilty Of Black Market Rap

NEW YORK (AP) — John F. (Chick) Meehan, former football coach at Manhattan College and New York University, was found guilty Friday night of conspiring to conduct a black market in steel during the Korean War.

Wesleyan Fumbles Help Doane Score 19-0 Win

Lincoln Star Special

CRETE—Fumbles plagued Nebraska Wesleyan again Friday night as Doane College scored a 19-0 Nebraska College Conference win over NWU here.

Doane's win gave it a challenging 4-2 record in NCC play, while Wesleyan was shoved farther down the list. It was the third loss for the Plainsmen in five conference starts.

Wesleyan dropped five fumbles during the game, with Doane end Don Detlefson recovering three of them. His first recovery led to the opening Doane score in the first period.

A 55-yard drive made the score 13-0 at the half, and a blocked punt set up the final Tiger touchdown in the fourth stanza.

Quarterback Larry Roth scored two of the Doane touchdowns. The first was on an eight yard run after Detlefson fell on a Wesleyan bobble at the Plainsmen 32. Doane moved to the score in seven plays.

Fullback Jim Herman kicked his only successful extra point of the night after that score.

In the second period, Myron Jasnoch capped the 55-yard march with a nine-yard run.

Center Tom Weatherly blocked an NWU punt on the Wesleyan 40 to provide impetus for the final touchdown. After six plays, Roth skirted left end on a keeper play for a six-yard TD.

Wesleyan's only threat came in the final period when 41-yard pass from John Ellengay to Gary Hoffman moved to the Doane 20. The threat ended on the Doane 15, however.

The Lincoln Northeast Rockets roared back from a 6-0 halftime deficit with a sizzling second half to completely ruin Lincoln Southeast's homecoming at the Oval Friday night and take a stunning 19-6 upset victory.

The underdog Rockets rolled for 206 yards on the ground, mixed in some timely passing and bottled up the Southeast offense at every turn after intermission to turn the contest into a near rout.

The Northeast line, outplayed in the first half but a tower of strength in the second, paved the way for the victory by ripping the Southeast forwards to shreds in the final half.

With plenty of room to run, Rocket backs Gene Smith and Leroy Smith ground out most of the Northeast yardage and accounted for all three touchdowns.

Both got away on long touch-down runs, Smith scampering 50 yards for the first Rocket score and Bentz 60 yards for the second three-pointer. Smith scored another on a five-yard sweep.

Southeast toyed with the Rockets in the first half before finally getting a touchdown with 4:48 remaining in the second period.

Six Welterweights Named For Tourney

... To Decide Basilio Successor

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—The World Champion Committee Friday named an Australian, Cuban, Mexican and three U. S. fighters to participate in an elimination tournament to determine the new champion in the welter weight division.

Former welterweight king Tony DeMarco was not included because of his knockout by Virgil Akins last Tuesday.

The committee, headed by Julius Halfand, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, said it aimed to find a successor to Carmen Basilio by March 15. Basilio was forced to yield the 147 pound title when he won the middleweight crown from Sugar Ray Robinson on Sept. 23.

Named, in alphabetical order, were Akins of St. Louis, who knocked out DeMarco in the 14th round and who is scheduled to fight DeMarco again in Boston Jan. 21 or 22; George Barnes, British Empire champion from Australia; Isaac Logart of Cuba, ranked first by the National Boxing Assn., and Ring Magazine; Vince Martinez of Paterson, N.J.; Gaspar Ortega of Mexico, and Gil Turner of Philadelphia.

Akins is ranked third by the NBA and second by Ring; Barnes is not ranked by the NBA but is ninth in the Ring ratings; Martinez is ranked fourth in both ratings; Ortega is ranked sixth by the NBA and seventh by Ring, and Turner is ranked second by the NBA and sixth by Ring.

DeMarco, although flattened by Akins, is ranked fifth by the NBA and third by Ring.

Halfand said the six would be given until Nov. 11 to notify him whether they agree to participate in the tournament. This was being done, he said, so that the tournament might be started with reasonable speed and completed within the hoped for March 15 time limit.

He said he already had an acceptance from Ortega's manager, Eddie Mafuz, manager of Logart, said he would accept, but reluctantly. He said the field was too large and that as No. 1 contender, Logart should have drawn a bye into the finals.

Halfand said the committee, composed of leading boxing organizations of the world, urges boxing promoters to immediately attempt to arrange contests of not less than 12 rounds duration among the six contenders. He said the winner of a single fight would not be named champion, and said the two finalists must meet over 15 rounds.

No draw was set up because commissions can't make matches.

Harry Markson, managing director of the International Boxing Club, said, "We will cooperate in every way with the commissions and make every effort to determine the new champion as soon as possible."

He said he would try and bring Barnes to the United States. If the Australian was interested in fighting here.

Holdrege Nips Minden, 7-6

MINDEN—The Holdrege Dusters recovered a fumble on the opening kickoff of the second half and marched the remaining 30 yards to score, and squeak by Minden, 7-6, Friday night.

The previously undefeated Minden team drew first blood, when it scored in the early minutes of the second period. Bruce Christiansen capped an 80 yard Minden drive as he plunged over from the one yard line. The after touchdown, which later meant the difference, was not made.

The Minden eleven held on to its slim margin until the end of the intermission.

On the opening kickoff of the second half, the ball squirted from a Minden back's hands and Holdrege fell on the fumble, taking command of the football on the Minden 31 yard line. After driving eleven yards, Holdrege's Tuls raced around end for the remaining distance. The all-important conversion was made.

Holdrege, although flattened by Akins, is ranked fifth by the NBA and third by Ring.

Halfand said the six would be given until Nov. 11 to notify him whether they agree to participate in the tournament. This was being done, he said, so that the tournament might be started with reasonable speed and completed within the hoped for March 15 time limit.

He said he already had an acceptance from Ortega's manager, Eddie Mafuz, manager of Logart, said he would accept, but reluctantly. He said the field was too large and that as No. 1 contender, Logart should have drawn a bye into the finals.

Halfand said the committee, composed of leading boxing organizations of the world, urges boxing promoters to immediately attempt to arrange contests of not less than 12 rounds duration among the six contenders. He said the winner of a single fight would not be named champion, and said the two finalists must meet over 15 rounds.

No draw was set up because commissions can't make matches.

Harry Markson, managing director of the International Boxing Club, said, "We will cooperate in every way with the commissions and make every effort to determine the new champion as soon as possible."

He said he would try and bring Barnes to the United States. If the Australian was interested in fighting here.

Caldwell Was Princeton's 15th Head Football Coach

Caldwell was Princeton's 15th head football coach since 1869 and one of the most successful. During his 12 seasons, Princeton teams won 70 games, lost 30 and tied 3. They went undefeated through the 1950 and 1951 seasons and both years were awarded the Lambert trophy, emblem of the Eastern championship.

Known as a proponent—perhaps the originator—of modern single wing football, Caldwell also was highly regarded as a teacher who believed that football should be secondary to education. His varied attack, stemming from the old, dull single wing style, helped make stars out of players whose physical equipment was limited, and it won games.

He described it once as "the single wing with T ideas."

Dick Colman, who played under Caldwell at Williams and served as his line coach there and at Princeton, was named acting head coach before the start of this season.

Caldwell was Princeton's 15th head football coach since 1869 and one of the most successful. During his 12 seasons, Princeton

A university spokesman said the cause of death was cancer. Caldwell was given a leave of absence from his coaching duties Sept. 23, less than a week before the start of the football season. He was taken to the hospital last Monday and placed in

PCL Delays Approval On Giants

... Loop May Expand

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Pacific Coast League directors voted Friday to delay approving the New York Giants bid to take over the San Francisco PCL franchise until damages and the future of the league can be discussed.

Emerging from a closed door session which he described as "pistol-at-the-head negotiations," PCL President Leslie O'Connor said he expected matters involving the Giants and the Brooklyn Dodgers would be turned over to a committee for intensive study.

The Dodgers are headed for Los Angeles.

O'Connor said he did not know how long the committee, if formed, would need to hammer out the problems.

"Everything will be considered as a complete package—realignment and compensation," O'Connor said. He added the two major league clubs concerned indicated a willingness to discuss the matter on this basis.

O'Connor said there appeared to be realization by the group of 3 club officials that they could not get much accomplished "in such large numbers."

O'Connor said new cities bidding for PCL franchises were discussed, but no decisions were reached.

He said Phoenix, Ariz., Long Beach, Calif., and Salt Lake City, Utah, were mentioned.

The PCL boss earlier said possible ways to keeping the coast league alive would be expansion to a 12-team league.

O'Connor said the least the league would accept would be Triple A, a notch below its present open status.

"Apparently there are not available cities with sufficient people to make the 1 million population for the open classification unless the rules for that classification are liberalized," he said. A total of three million is the minimum for a Triple A league.

Talking to newsmen during a recess, O'Connor said damages to be paid PCL cities were discussed only in a general way. But he said it was his opinion that there were no questions that some damages would have to be paid.

He said the position of the Dodgers and the Giants is that reconstruction of the league, if possible, will affect the size of the damages.

"If the league is extinguished the damages will be much higher," he said.

Horace Stoneham, president of the Giants, came out of the session with the terse comment, "everything's all right."

E. J. "Buzzy" Bavasi, vice president of the Dodgers, would say only that "everything's status quo."

When O'Connor mentioned "negotiations with a pistol at your head," he was asked if this was such a session.

"Why certainly," he replied. "There's a gun at our head in view of the fact that if we want to live we have to negotiate some sort of a reorganization. Otherwise, it's death."

O'Connor emphasized that temporarily shelving the Giants' bid for the San Francisco franchise transfer is "in no sense a disapproval of the transfer. It merely defers consideration of it as part of the whole situation." The Giants take over of the old San Francisco PCL baseball franchise is a necessary step for clearing the way for the National League club to move into the Bay City.

Stoneham has said he'd like to move the Seal franchise to Phoenix.

Observers saw the maneuver to package the franchise approval with money damage and league realignment as a bid to strengthen the Coast League's position in dealing with the major league clubs.

plunge through the middle and Carroll Reber pounced on it to give the Cyclones the ball on the Nebraska 17.

Wingback Lamson and fullback Arden Esslinger powered the ball to the four and Lamson swung around end for the touchdown. Esslinger kicked the tying point.

Nebraska had plenty of steam left, however, and halfback Joe Dickson skipped 27 yards with an Iowa State quick kick to the IS 31 to set up the Huskers' final touchdown of the day.

Cozine—who looked like one of the most promising prospects in the game—tossed to Minnick on the 11 and after leaping high in the air to grab the ball he bulled his way for the touchdown.

Iowa State blocked Kosier's conversion kick and the Huskers were through scoring for the day.

The Cyclones weren't awed by Nebraska's six-point lead. They fought back in the third quarter and after some rugged action in midfield scored on a 33-yard pass play from Lamson to end Ken O'Rourke. Cliff Rick converted to put Nebraska in the hole, 20-19, and the Huskers never climbed out.

Despite some fine play by linemen Kosier, tackle Dennis Doyle of Fairbury, Gacusana and center Tim Barnes of Omaha, Nebraska never threatened while the Iowa Staters rang up their last two touchdowns.

Lamson capped a 74-yard drive with a 12-yard scoring jaunt for one of the markers, and Ron WALTERS to Bob Bateman for a nine-yard touchdown with the game nearly over.

Don Davis, ex-Lincoln High back, was impressive in the late stages of the game, picking up ground over tackle. But the Nebraskans never got organized after Cozine hobbled off, and that was it.

Among the fans who sat through occasional showers and darkness were Mr. and Mrs. Al Ratzloff of Windon, Minn. They were down to see their son Daniel make his first college start.

Pinex is a real cough medicine. Goes right to work quickly where trouble lies—in the upper respiratory passages. Acts in all these wonderful ways at once: Relieves dry feeling, soothes irritation, lessens tickle, helps raspy breathing, loosens phlegm!

With flu and colds now raging, it's important that you have this relief on hand while supplies are available. Insist on Pinex for the kind of quick relief that only genuine Pinex can offer you!

Your druggist has Pinex in two different forms: Get Ready Mixed Pinex, the extra convenient kind that you take in doses right from the bottle. Or get concentrated Pinex for extra economy. You add the simple syrup yourself and get about four times as much for your money as other brands.

But remember, no other cough relief can give you the Pinex guarantee. Pinex must satisfy or your money back. Get genuine Pinex at your druggist today!

One Dead As Cars Meet At Crest Of Hill

Three Others Hospitalized

By the Associated Press

A head-on collision at the crest of a hill 15 miles northeast of Kearney Friday morning took one life and sent three persons to the hospital with undetermined injuries.

The latest victim was Mrs. Joe Ripp, 61, who died en route to a Kearney hospital of injuries suffered when the car driven by her husband collided with a vehicle carrying Larry McPherson, 18, and his brother, Donald, 16, students in Pleasanton High School. Ripp and the two brothers were hospitalized. The Ripp home is near Poole, Neb.

Barnett Rites Pending

Meanwhile, funeral services are pending for Francis Barnett, Jr., 27, of Auburn, who was killed in a two car crash four miles east of Auburn.

Barnett's body was taken to Tarkio, Mo., his former home, for services and burial.

Johnson County Sheriff G. F. Kelley said Barnett was following a farm tractor and pulled out to the left. His car crashed with that of James Houlton, 50, of Auburn.

Houlton suffered a broken arm and broken ribs. His wife was hospitalized at Nebraska City in serious condition.

Barnett's survivors include his wife, Barbara; a daughter, Sharon; a son, Roger, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Barnett Sr., of Tarkio.

Republicans Order Drive For Partisan Legislature

By BETTY PERSON

Star Staff Writer

Some 300 Republicans meeting in Lincoln Friday at committee workshops moved to convert Nebraska's non-partisan Legislature into a partisan body.

The State Executive Committee directed State GOP Chairman Richard E. Spelts Jr. of Grand Island to form a committee to spearhead the effort, and set the 1960 election as the target date for conversion.

Both Republican and Democratic parties have backed previous proposals to put the unicameral Legislature on a partisan basis.

Union Controversy

In a meeting of the Republican State Central Committee, Dr. Edwin Leigh of Hardy moved that the committee take sides in a current Carpenters Union controversy with the state over highway construction employment practices.

Leigh wanted the committee to back State Engineer L. N. Ross in opposing union demands that union job classifications be followed on highway construction.

The motion was tabled by a one-sided vote after several committee members saw political dynamite in the issue.

Leigh said he was "not opposed to organized labor" but said the union demands will "squeeze farmers out of jobs" which they otherwise could pick up on road projects and will increase construction costs.

Committees Set Up

On party procedure, the State Central Committee authorized Spelts to name a committee of county chairmen to write the party platform, and to name another committee to revise the party constitution.

Spelts named Edson Smith of Omaha as chairman of the committee whose work will include revisions to allow naming of the state chairman at Founders Day meetings in March of election years, rather than in September.

Harris said the National Broadcasting Co. and the Columbia Broadcasting System will no longer "insist on changes in the time-honored lyrics" in songs by Stephen Foster.

'Darkies' Returns To Foster Songs

WASHINGTON (INS)—Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark) said Friday two major networks have agreed to restore the use of the term "darkies" in certain songs referring to the Negro race.

Harris said the National Broad-

Court Overrules In Injury Case

The Nebraska Supreme Court, reversing a Buffalo County Dis-

Carranza workmen's compensation benefits, said the man's testi-

Carranza had said he suffered

he was working for the Payne-

Moss Hits Secrecy On Warehouse

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional demand was made on Secretary Dulles Friday to lift the lid of secrecy on a warehouseful of gifts given United States officials by foreign donors.

"Who owns these gifts?" asked Rep. Moss (D-Calif.), chairman of the House Government Information subcommittee, in a letter to Dulles. "Are they public property? Who pays the rent for their storage?"

The letter was fired off by Moss after the State Department refused to talk about some 6,000 gifts which have piled up in warehouse storage over the decades, or to let reporters see them.

Writing Dulles, Moss said "according to our information a State Department spokesman told members of the press that the building is classified," and continued:

"The subcommittee has found on numerous other occasions that federal officials, because they feel that something may be slightly embarrassing, are prone to sweep it under the rug of secrecy..."

Classified

"The subcommittee also will appreciate your explanation of why these gifts are placed in a classified status and what possible bearing they might have on the national security."

The gifts came from grateful foreign dignitaries, such as King Saud of Saudi Arabia, in appreciation of the activities of U.S. government employees.

Included in the cache are a suitcase, an Arabian robe and a gold wrist watch given to Secretary of State Dulles by Saud. Not there, but locked in State Department safe, is a total of $6,700 given by Saud to the department security men who guarded him during his Washington visit last February.

Medical Fraternity Must Pay Taxes On Its Property

The Iota Benefit Assn. is not exempt from paying taxes on property it owns at 4120 Dewey in Omaha, the State Supreme Court ruled Friday.

The property is occupied by members of Iota Chapter of Phi Rho Sigma as a fraternity house where students from the Nebraska College of Medicine live.

Court Reviews Disability Case

The State Supreme Court ruled Friday on a Lancaster County District Court workmen's compensation case involving Leonard Turner, who brought suit against Beatrice Foods Co.

The high court affirmed the district court in awarding temporary total disability compensation, but reversed the previous decision which had denied permanent partial disability payments to Turner.

Accounts Checked

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP)—Safe-crackers checked the bookkeeping of the Arkansas Federal Building and Loan Assn. and found it correct—then made off with the cash.

Officials found the burglars had punched into the safe and discovered a journal that listed cash receipts at $103.85. With keys found in the safe, they opened desk drawers until they found the money and then, apparently after counting it, went back to the journal and drew a circle around the entry signifying they found it to be correct.

There was no money in the safe they had laboriously opened.
